Welcome to the IT Department

The IT department (Abteilung für Informationstechnologie = AIT) is responsible for the implementation, operation and support of computing resources and services for all users of the institute. The spectrum ranges from office-type database applications to high performance computing services and applications.

The AIT web pages will allow to get basic information about the services available from the internet and offer you various self help options. A central service desk is available for your support.

http://www.psi.ch/computing/computing